

RAILROAD NEWS

When You Want Pure White Lead Get It

Probably there is no other article of commerce subjected to so much adulteration and misrepresentation as White Lead.

Out of 18 brands of "White Lead" recently analyzed by the Government Agricultural Experiment Station of North Dakota, 5 contained absolutely White Lead, and only 3 over 90% of White Lead.

There is, however, a way to be certain of the purity and genuineness of the White Lead you buy, and that is to insist upon bearing the Dutch Boy trade mark. This trade mark is positive guarantee of absolutely Pure White Lead made by the Old Dutch Process.

Lewis

Pure White Lead

A circular logo featuring a young boy in a white shirt and cap, holding a paintbrush and standing on a globe. The text "TRADE MARK" is written in a circle around the boy. Below the logo, the words "DUTCH BOY" are printed in a stylized font.

BOOK

"A Talk on Paint," gives valuable information on the paint subject. Sent free upon request.

All last packed in 1907 bears this mark.

JOHN T. LEWIS & BROS. CO.
537 S. Front St., Philadelphia, Pa.

FOR SALE BY ALL DEALERS.

NJUNCTION IS NOT ANTICIPATE

resident Turpin of the Board
Thinks St. John's Vestry
May Build.

COURTS WOULD NOT ENJOIN

f Title to Land Is Vested Church They May Build With out Hindrance.

President William M. Turpin, of the

to give an expression as to the mode in which the vestry of St. John's church and the city in the matter of the erection of a memorial chapel at a parish house, stated that he saw no reason why the congregation should construct such buildings if they were to be on the ground on which they proposed to put them, as he understood they did. He said that he had voted to sustain the Mayor's veto in the first instance, but that in the light of the statement published yesterday he was of opinion that the Mayor was proposing no objection to the building plan.

It appears that the city owns a portion of the block upon which the erection of church buildings is to be attempted. It is the fact that the city has no right to say whether or not a building should be placed on its own land.

As the buildings proposed to be erected are to be placed upon the land owned by Mr. Turpin, he would have no right to interfere, if he is so minded.

Mr. Turpin, who is a sound lawyer and a man regarded as unusual in the community, stated that the absolute settlement of the title to the land could be ascertained easily, and had been ascertained by the vestry. It seemed, however, that even the city had no ground

The Council will probably discuss the matter some form to-night and the probability is that it may be outlined or an opinion asked of the City Attorney as to the authority of the city in the premises.

QUARREL IN DANCE HALL.

Fred Hill Had Open Knife Wound Arrested.

Fred Hill, colored, became involved in a row last night with William McFarlane, proprietor of Fisherman's Dance Hall, and the two men were engaged in a fight. McFarlane was the aggressor to blows when Policeman W. Palmer arrived on the scene. McFarlane caught Hill with an opened scalp knife in his pocket, the negro having thrust his hand in his pocket when he saw the officer come. Hill and the other negroes stood apart, afraid to interfere between the two men.

Policeman Palmer placed Hill under arrest, and later Molloy swore out a warrant against the other negro.

Visiting Richmond.

Mr. I. R. W. Smith, of Longmont, Colo., in the city for a few days, and goes here to the Jamestown Exposition. Mr. Smith was for many years a newspaper man, but is now successfully engaged

AMUSEMENTS

At the Academy.

Ralph Stuart and his excellent company are out for a rollicking week at in "All the Comforts of Home," the Academy, the farce which brought fame and fortune to William Gillette a half dozen years ago.

The play revels in fun and nonsense pure comedy and roaring farce.

"All the Comforts of Home" is a preposterous farce that compels audience to laugh uproariously and moderately and then experience a sort of self-contempt for cheap and given to something cheap and silly. It is a comedy, an interesting piece of broad caricature and at times as clever as comical situations piling up extraordinary complication can merit, but it is all wholesome, delicate and sane.

CARD OF THANKS.

The friends of Mrs. Mary Virginia Vaughan, who sent floral offerings, please accept thanks from the family.

Mrs. M. L. VAUGHAN,
Miss Susan J. WILLIS,
J. N. WILLIS.

July 4, 1907.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature Charles H. Fletcher The Kind You Have Always Bought